

Wheels and Axles

Jayce, Erin, and Clayton

If you want to learn about wheels and axles. Then listen to this. Got a minute?

Ok, well here's a fun fact an axle is a rod that holds two wheels together. For example like if you were at the store their shopping carts are able to carry more stuff easier because of the wheel and axle.

Like when you are shopping you can put different goodies in their cart. Likes some strawberries some watermelon or even some very yummy fudge caramel double chocolate chip peanut butter ice cream. Uhh yummy... yeah uhh moving on you could also put some cool Toys/electronics like a bike, a flat screen TV, or your very own laptop ect.

Then you could bring all that stuff to the car, OMG doesn't a car have wheels and axles too. Yes, yes it does in fact it has two axles and four tires. It has one axle in the front of the car and in the back and it has two tires in the front and two in the back. Wheels and axles help us a lot in life. If wheels and axles could talk or even understand what humans were saying I would be thanking them. Minute up thanks for listening to us about wheels and axles. See yah!☺
